

EIOPA Occupational Pensions Stakeholder Group

Simone Miotto

Simone is the Executive Director of AEIP, the European Association of Paritarian Institutions of Social Protection. Based in Brussels, AEIP is an advocacy organization representing Social Protection Institutions established and managed by employers and trade unions on a joint basis within the framework of collective agreements. In addition, Simone holds a position on the board of the ETS (European Tracking Service) Association. His previous experiences have equipped him with extensive knowledge and insights into various aspects of social protection and financial affairs, particularly occupational pensions. Previously, Simone held roles such as Senior Pension Policy Adviser at PensionsEurope, Economic and Financial Affairs adviser at AEIP, and acted as Coordinator of the World Pension Alliance for a year. His responsibilities includes managing an association representing IORPs at the EU level, strategic leadership, financial management, advocacy at European and international levels, and coordinating committees and working groups. Simone has deep knowledge of the IORP II Directive and of the other legislation applicable to IORPs. He leads AEIP advocacy activities on IORPs and its working group on pensions, and has coordinated for 6 years the activities of PensionsEurope WG IORP, extensively working on important dossiers such as, FIDA, PEPP, and sustainable finance legislation. He is used to living and working in a multicultural and multinational context and possesses strong language skills (Italian, English, French, and Spanish) and digital proficiency. His experience encompasses representation at EU institutions, policy analysis, drafting position papers, organizing events, and project management. Simone has also been involved in training activities related to pensions, sustainability, social security, and financial regulations. He holds a Master's degree in Law from the University of Ferrara in Italy.
