AGENDA ITEM 5: SUSTAINABLE FINANCE

6. Teija Korpiaho and Torun Reinhammar introduced the topic based on a discussion note (EIOPA-20-661) and opened the floor for discussion.

MEETING SUMMARY

7. Sustainable finance is more than a regulatory exercise, it is a business case for insurers and pension funds. Sustainability risks go to the core of risk management, and supervisors have a responsibility to ensure that risks are properly managed, in the interest of the industry and consumers. Supervisory and regulatory initiatives can incentivize the transition by supporting transparency to customers. However, as stakeholder group members pointed out, there is a need to differentiate between private and retail investors. Regulatory and supervisory efforts should build on a strong dialogue with stakeholders to assess preferences and obstacles. Regulation should not be static, but take into account the transition towards more sustainable economic activities and investments. The relevance of taxonomy in identifying eligible activities cannot be overlooked. When confronted with protection gaps (resulting from a pandemic, climate, or cyber risk) the role of insurers needs to be carefully looked at, since gaps can create systemic risks that are hard to insure.
8. EIOPA appreciated the exchange of views with the IRSG and OPSG members in bringing forward this strategic priority. Based on work, including scenario analysis in ORSA, impact underwriting and protection gaps, EIOPA will work on these concepts in 2021.

AGENDA ITEM 6: STRATEGIC SUPERVISORY PRIORITIES (SSPs)

9. Peter Braumueller, and Greg van Elsen introduced the topic based on a discussion note (EIOPA-20-662), then opened the floor for discussion.
10. The identification of Union-wide strategic supervisory priorities is a new element in EIOPA's mandate, following the ESAs review in 2019. EIOPA will identify supervisory strategic priorities to be implemented by all Member States for the first time 2021. Challenges include finding the right level of detail, as well as capturing both risks and opportunities of the Covid-19 crisis. The priorities are defined at a rather high level so that they can be incorporated in the strategic priorities of each and every National Competent Authority (NCA). The proposed supervisory strategic priorities will be discussed in the upcoming BoS meeting (26-27 November 2020). The suggestions and proposals of the IRSG and OPSG members were very much welcomed and will be taken on board in EIOPA's workstreams and initiatives, as applicable.
11. Based on concerns expressed by stakeholder group members, EIOPA will work further on the proposed supervisory priorities in order to better incorporate priorities for the occupational pensions' sector. EIOPA will further refine the proposed priorities based on the discussions with individual NCAs.

AGENDA ITEM 7: CLOSING REMARKS AND NEXT STEPS

12. EIOPA Executive Director thanked members for their active participation. On sustainable finance, he was very pleased to see mutual understanding between supervisors and stakeholders to make sustainable finance a reality in the years to come. Also, as stakeholder group members highlighted, a few challenges still lie ahead such as delivering clear, concise, digital-proof information to customers. On the Strategic Supervisory Priorities, he acknowledged that discussions were less consensual since the topic was quite new to the Authority, stemming from the ESAs Review. It should be quite understandable that developing a new tool takes time, especially when done together with supervisors and stakeholders. In this regard, discussing SSPs in such a joint setup significantly helped (i) improve EIOPA's understanding of the issues at stake and (ii) shape EIOPA's future work in the area.
