Measuring financial literacy and well-being

- The TIAA-Institute-GFLEC Personal Finance Index (P-Fin Index) is an annual barometer of knowledge and understanding which enable sound financial decision-making and effective management of personal finances among U.S. adults.
- The P-Fin Index relates to common financial situations that individuals encounter and can be viewed as a gauge of “working knowledge.”
- In addition to personal finance knowledge it provides information on financial well-being indicators.
- Data is collected on a representative sample of about 1,000 respondents (age 18+).
- Data collection started at the end of 2016.

Zooming in into specific sub-groups

Each year, a specific demographic group is oversampled so we can provide a more detailed analysis of their financial literacy and wellness.

2017: Hispanics

2018: Millennials

2019: African Americans

2020: Women

2021: Age/Generations

What is unique: 8 functional areas of personal finance

The index is based on responses to 28 questions, with three or four questions for each of the eight functional areas:

The P-Fin Index's 28 questions cover eight functional areas:

- 1. Earning
- 2. Saving
- 3. Consuming
- 4. Investing
- 5. Borrowing
- 6. Insuring
- 7. Comprehending risk
- 8. Go-to information sources

Measuring financial fragility (a measure of well-being)

- How confident are you that you could come up with $2,000 if an unexpected need arose within the next month?
  - I am certain I could come up with the full $2,000.
  - I could probably come up with $2,000.
  - I could probably not come up with $2,000.
  - I am certain I could not come up with $2,000.
  - Don't know.
  - Prefer not to say.

People with these responses are classified as financially fragile.

Concluding remarks

- Need to improve levels of financial literacy
  - Levels of knowledge are still low
  - Financial literacy does not increase over time without interventions
- Some topics are particularly complex
  - Risk and risk diversification
- Need to boost financial resilience
  - It is low even during good economic times
  - It is linked to financial literacy

Concluding remarks, cont.

- The data on personal finance provide new and useful information
- We can use the data to design programs
- We can use to inform policy, they should be evidence-based
- Looking forward to the new wave of data

Thank you!
